Volume I, Issue I

Your House, City of Zoom

A Message From Ear Chair Kristian Jackson, FSCL Tech Coordinator

Salvete Omnes!

On behalf of the FJCL and FSCL I am proud to present to you the First Volume and First Issue of the State Forum Ear! We are saddened that once again we cannot be together to celebrate state forum, but hey the amount of tests, ludi, and certamen will make it feel like it is! We look forward to still celebrating State Forum from the lovely space of Zoom and Discord, so settle in, this is gonna be one for the history books!

As for the Forum Ear, stay with us to learn more about the Ear and how you can be featured in the next issue of the Ear!

Was Any of This Even Real?!

Have you heard from any of the FJCL and FSCL boards? Has anyone seen Ms. R????? Members of the FSCL disappear with the FJCL board on the Eve of State Forum not to be heard from until the ungodly hours of the night. Where did they go? What happened? Reports say that the FJCL officers were hallucinating and everyone was acting like zombies...wait am I reading this right? It says here that somehow the group found a segment of the Twilight Zone and what seemed like years to the poor officers and sponsors, was only a 6 hour Zoom call.... bizarre if you ask me! If you have any clue as to what happened to everyone, please feel free to call and leave your information at (248) 434-5508. If your tips lead to the explanation as to what happened to the officers, you could receive a reward.

Have You Heard the Legend?

Academics. Creatives. Ludi. Certamen.

My Latin teacher used to tell me stories about the old days, a time of peace, when the Praevatar kept balance between the Academics Alliance, Creatives Club, Ludi Lords, and Certamen Class. But all that changed when COVID-19 attacked. Only the Praevatar mastered all four categories. Only they could stop the ruthless pandemic, but when the Wyndham Resort needed them most, they vanished. Over a year has passed and COVID-19 is nearing victory in the forum. One year ago, my magister and the other Latin teachers journeyed through Zoom to fight off COVID-19, leaving me and my friends to look after the FJCL. Some people believe that the Praevatar never even made it to middle school and that the cycle is broken, but I haven't lost hope. I still believe that somehow, the Praevatar will return to save the State Forum.

WHAT'S YOUR ALIGNMENT?

The student who gives a shoutout to all of the officers and sponsors in the Discord

Lawful Good

The student who always uses the Zoom emotes to during Assembly

Neutral Good

The kid that think Opening Assembly is the Spirit Contest and forgets to mute their mic as they chant RED HOT

Chaotic Good

The kid that shares their past projects in the Discord channel

Lawful Neutral

The kids whose dog keeps barking in the background because they hear other humans

True Neutral

The student that can't get out of the waiting room on Zoom because their name is Tiger King

Chaotic Neutral

The students who do not read the rules in the Discord server and have the name SupremeCaesar15

Lawful Evil

The certamen player whose cat keeps jumping on their keyboard in front of them when they need to buzz

Neutral Evil

The kid that keeps changing their Zoom background every 2 minutes

Chaotic Evil

Ear Personals!

Do you have something nice to say about someone you know or just want to give someone a shoutout?

You can leave them here in the Ear!

Check in On Your Local Latin Teachers

Since State Forum the strangest phenomena have been occurring with our local Latin Magistras. Witnesses have reported seeing teachers sit in the FJCL Voice Channels of their Discord server for hours on end. Some have figure out how to mute their mics and turn off videos, but others just sit by themselves in the void. Remember during this year's convention season, keep an eye out for your local Latin teachers and sponsors, no one deserves to sit by themselves in eternal silence.

Hundred of FJCLers go Missing on the Dawn of State Forum

Hey, have you heard from the FJCL? Your friends you go to school with? Even the certamen team that your school always plays against during competitive? Or that student who always does costumes with you every year? You may need to reach out to them see where they are. As we approached the beginning of State Forum, hundred of FJCLers are missing in action! Over 800 have registered for State but only a mere 100-200 have shown up in the land of Discord. If you have any friends or schools who have mysterious not shown up to State yet please reach out!
